Experience 1973-present:

Timothy D. Naegele & Associates, Washington, D.C. (1977-present). Partner, Brownstein, Zeidman & Schomer, Washington, D.C. (1973-1977). General practice of law in the District of Columbia, with emphasis on litigation and matters pertaining to federal and state regulation, and U.S. financial institutions (i.e., banks, holding companies, savings banks, thrifts and credit unions). Involves the practice of administrative law before federal and state regulatory agencies, and the representation of clients before the Congress.

Has written the financial institutions laws of the State of Maine, which now appear as Title 9-B of the Maine Revised Statutes Annotated; served as special consultant to the State of California on matters pertaining to financial institutions; was special consultant to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and testified as an expert witness on its behalf in connection with litigation arising from the failure of a national bank; and has represented various banks, holding companies, and other clients in connection with legislative matters, mergers and acquisitions, branching matters, supervisory problems, and other legislative and regulatory concerns, including Standby Letters of Credit.

1971-1972:

Administrative Assistant and chief of staff to Presidential Medal of Freedom and Congressional Gold Medal recipient and former U.S. Senator Edward W. Brooke (R-Mass). Advisor, speechwriter; directed staff through re-election campaign.

1969-1971:

Assistant Counsel, Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs, United States Senate, Washington, D.C. Responsible for speech writing and legislative matters pertaining to banking, securities, international trade, and housing (e.g., participated in drafting various provisions of the following Acts, in addition to assorted bills on various subjects, such as the Export Expansion and Regulation Act of 1969, the Bank Holding Company Act Amendments of 1970 [authored its Anti-Tying Provision, which is the only federal antitrust law enacted by Congress that deals specifically with predatory lending practices by banks and other financial institutions], the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1969 and 1970 [authored the "Brooke Amendment" relating to public housing; and the national "Housing Allowance" program, which morphed into the Section 8 housing program that has helped millions of Americans]). Staffed Presidential Commission on Mortgage Interest Rates (1969).

On behalf of Senator Brooke, established a summer program for disadvantaged kids in Massachusetts, in conjunction with the Pentagon, which involved underutilized military facilities within the state (e.g., the Boston Navy Yard, Otis Air Force Base) and served approximately 100,000 kids during its first year alone. Traveled from Washington, D.C. to Massachusetts with then-Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and Senator Brooke to review the program and its progress.

1967-1969:

Captain, United States Army. Assigned to U.S. Army Element, Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA), The Pentagon, Washington, D.C. Received Joint Service Commendation Medal.

1966-1967:

Attorney, Morrison & Foerster, San Francisco, California

Education

L.L.M., Georgetown University, 1969. Served on the Board of Editors of Law and Policy in International Business, an international business law publication of the law school.

L.L.B., School of Law (Boalt Hall), University of California, Berkeley, 1966.

A.B., Economics, University of California at Los Angeles, 1963.

University of California, Santa Barbara, 1958-1962. Vice President, Freshman Class; President, Sophomore Class; Vice President, Associated Students. Member, Board of Directors, UCSB Alumni Association, 1980-86; Trustee, UCSB Foundation, 1987-1990.

[As President of the Sophomore Class at UCSB, produced concerts that made money for the class and appealed to the student body as a whole, featuring (1) the terrific blind jazz pianist, George Shearing who performed at UCSB's Gymnasium; and at the Santa Barbara Bowl, (2) the Kingston Trio performed, which was the top act on American college campuses at the time. Also, to earn extra money, produced concerts independently featuring (3) pianist Roger Williams at the Exhibit Building of Santa Barbara's Earl Warren Showgrounds; and featuring (4) a revival of the World War II-vintage Glenn Miller Band—including some of its original performers—at Santa Barbara's historic Grenada Theatre.]
